To Whom It May Concern;

I, Alma McCutchen, hereby states, that, I would like to recommend Mr. Kennedy Stevens as a selected Humanitarian for the Martin Luther King Jr., Celebration on Monday, January 19, 2009.

With all of his accomplishments and contributions to the surrounding communities I think he deserves to be honored also on that day as a part of all the festivities in honor of Mr. Martin Luther King Jr. If he is selected I am sure he will be gratefully appreciative. Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Alma McCutchen

To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to support and confirm that Kennedy Stevens is an example of excellence and professionalism. He has been such a blessing as a friend and supporter of my family as well as the many citizens in Hallandale Beach, FL. Since Kennedy assumed the position of leader and commander of his esteemed family business, he has transcended the boundaries of which only few dream of attaining. Kennedy's incomparable sense of humor and serene spirit warms the hearts of the bereaved and the only way to categorize his existence in the world is to confirm that Kennedy is appreciated because he's a faithful man of God, a reflection of His grace and splendor, an extension of His caring ways, and an expression of His heart to others. Kennedy Stevens has and continues to sustain the Steven's legacy by consistently delivering exceptional service while displaying that there is indeed no substitute for experience.

Since adult hood, Ken has dedicated his entire life to the Hallandale Beach Community. He was born and raised in the Hallandale Beach Community. Ken is well known in the Hallandale Beach Community. He has helped people whenever he is called upon, and often times his compassion for people allows him to give freely and simply help those in need! He is genuine when it comes to donating food to the community or organizations to assist with events. Ken is charitable, he does pro bono funerals for people of low income status, he is kind to everyone who makes contact with him, as well as his employees. Ken is a very generous man. Ken shares his gifted voice by signing at various community events and different Hallandale Beach Community churches.

NARRATIVE DESCRIPTION OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF NOMINEE

(Please use additional paper as required to complete your submission. Attachments are permissible)

The person who I strongly is deserving of this award is Mrs. Gloria Stoner. She was born in Hallandale. Her family has been here for generations. Gloria's accomplishments are many. She is a graduate of Lanier and Attucks Highschool. A former Broward county transportation driver who retired after many years of dedicated service

Gloria Stoner

Mrs. Stoner is involved in many community activities. As I have known her, while in high school she was supportive of the youth and involved in many of the fundraising and sporting events. Her son Roland Meyers was the quarterback of the football team and one of the first graduates of Hallandale High School as F was.

Additionally, Gloria is a longtime member of the Ebenezer Baptist Church. She has sung in the choir for as long as I have known her. Her presence is noted in many other ministries in the church. Mrs. Stoner has sacrificed her time to do positive things to improve the quality of life for the Hallandale Community.

Currently she is the trusted financial secretary of the Community Civic Association in the Palms and is one of the organizers Martin Luther King weekend events. She also has the distinction of being a parent member of the Hallandale High Schools & community organizations.

Her contributions to these organizations are invaluable as she brings wisdom.

I might add Gloria has sophisticated style when the occasion calls but it is not above her to do the dirty work in jeans and a T shirt as she works on whatever cause for the community.

I highly recommend Mrs. Stoner because someone who is a product of Hallandale, has strong roots here, knows the history of the city and county. There are many others
I could submit for this award but Mrs. Stoner has not been given the recognition for tireless work as a person who stays in the background but is powerful hard working woman who should receive the humanitarian award as she has met the criteria as a active and accomplished resident of Hallandale Beach.

Joshua at the age of 5 came up with the idea that he needed to help all children to be as full as he is. He has set out to feed each children or family in the world and starting right here in Florida. He is extremely active in his foundation that he has created. He is now 7 years old and is always thinking of ways to help others. Each month we help over 350 families from Miami Dade, Broward and West Palm Beach Counties. We provide <sup>free</sup> food for the needy. People come from all over. His uncle donated his website www.joshuasheart.org. Please consider him for this award

-Joshua Williams.

Joshua deserves to be considered for the award not only because of his age but because he believes that each one of us can make a difference in the world ~~and~~ no matter the age. He believes he has found his purpose in life at this age and that is to find a way to stamp out hunger. Currently he is working on a presentation to address leaders of the community to make this project work. For Joshua this is all exciting for him. He loves to give and help others. He remains humble and is always thinking of ways to make a difference. People who would normally not volunteer has volunteered to assist. Children are learning about giving back at a young age.

Each ~~month~~ month we are feeding on an average of 350 families from Miami, Broward and West Palm and the list is growing. Each month Joshua assist with ~~doing~~ setting up and distributing food to the needy and less fortunate.

Thank you for this opportunity.

Care Force: Young Philanthropist Looking For Corporate Do-Gooders

POSTED 2:06 pm EDT October 3, 2008
UPDATED 2:38 pm EDT October 3, 2008

Seven-year-old Joshua Williams is as bright as he is adorable

"Do people tell you you're cute?" asked Care Force reporter Mayte Padron.

"A lot," replied Williams.

Before he entered kindergarten, Williams had already mapped out his plan to help struggling families put food on their tables.

"We try to help people who are low-income and we try to end world hunger," said Williams

Last November his vision became a mission known as Joshua's Heart. Like a good general, Williams wasted no time rallying his troops. He's the president of the non profit foundation and his mom, Claudia Mclean, is its vice president.

Serving alongside them are dozens of volunteers who help pack and distribute boxes of food to some 250 low-income South Floridians, people like 70-year-old Betty Carswell

"Thank you so much, Joshua," said Carswell.

"You're welcome," replied Williams

"I am still in awe," said Mclean. "There's just no words to describe it."

Joshua's Heart is making an impact, because its young leader runs a very tight ship. If there are any gaffes, the pint-size philanthropist has no problem executing the Donald Trump business plan.

"What do you do to the volunteers who sit back and don't do anything?" asked Padron

"I fire them," replied Williams.

"So would you fire your mom?"

"Maybe."

Williams is a young and witty entrepreneur. He may be small, but he has big plans for his foundation. His hope is to enlist the help of South Florida's corporate community to reach even more neighbors in need.

With the weak economy contributing to the increase in demand for food, Joshua's Heart has to step up its outreach strategy to meet the need.

"We're getting new people every day," said Mclean. "We got a call from one guy who asked when the next distribution
